FOREWORD

ATTEMPTING to record the many hours you have spent within the portals of Brown High School, we the staffs of the 1954 ALBROKAN have worked earnestly to bring you memories of these hours—the clubs and activities you participated in, the hours you spent studying, the mad rush as the 3:35 bell rang, and the fun in the social room with your friends and classmates.

If, in the future, this book can serve as a means of recalling these hours to your memory we, the editors and staffs, will feel that we have served our purpose.

BARBARA ALDRIDGE
Poet

O N W A R D

When spring arrives with new life this year,
And school days fly swiftly by,
May we pause and recall sweet memories
Of the days we've spent at Brown High.

Yes, only twelve short years ago
Our school days had their start,
But now as the crossroads of life draw near
And friends for so long must part,

Some will go up the highway to fame,
While others may onward roam;
But no matter where our pathways lead,
Brown High will always be home.

Home, where we've spent our very best days,
So pleasant now to recall . . .
Those days we once called endless . . .
How we'd love to relive them all.

But there are many steps on the ladder of life,
And our climb has just begun,
So we have no time to falter
Until our job is done.

Now, our Father, as we leave behind
These days we've learned to love,
Guide and help us in all that we do
To keep our eyes on Thee above.

SENIOR HISTORY

PROLOGUE

I walked slowly down the sidewalk. The fog was thick and the streetlights formed tiny halos above the silent, deserted streets. I walked toward Central Park. This was my final farewell to New York and to America. Tomorrow night I would be well on my way to a new career and a new life in Germany.

I stepped from the street to the curb and gazed through the arches. To my bewilderment, the familiar sights of Central Park were gone. Instead, I saw a stage. I stopped in amazement and watched fascinated.

The house lights dimmed; the music swelled, then ceased, as the curtains rose. The stars took their places and the action began.

The time was four years ago, in the fall of 1950. The scene was J. W. Cannon High School. The cast was composed of my Freshman Class.

We were all excited and thrilled at the thought of entering high school for our first time. We had a lot to learn. We met and made new friends.

Officers were soon elected to guide us through that first year. They were Jimmy McKinley, president; Katie Ruth Durham, vice president; Norma Jean Daniels, secretary; and Ray Richardson, treasurer. We chose Margaret Dial and Michael Koontz to represent us on the Student Council.

Our first party as a class was a picnic held in the gym. We played games and had square dancing. Miss Betty Bovette was our class adviser.

ACT I

As our second year in high school began, we more than ever felt a sense of belonging. We were no longer "green freshmen."

We elected Charles Ray Smith, president; Martha Shelton, vice-president; Patti Barlow, secretary; and Gail Payne, treasurer. Our council members were Sonny Shelf and Katie Ruth Durham.

As freshmen we had no representative in an office of the Student Government. But, when we became sophomores, we helped boost Harold Allen into the big job of treasurer of the student body.

We were proud to see Gail Goodman, Elaine Overcash, Frankie Black, Phil Settlemyer, Patti Barlow, and Hugu Freeze tapped into the Honor Society on probation. This is an honor bestowed on very few sophomores.

Our class presented a 12 gauge, double barreled shot gun to our faithful janitor, Herbert Kirk, for Christmas.

The Key Club was organized this year with three charter members from the sophomore class, Phil Settlemyer, Hugu Freeze, and Frankie Black. They selected "We Build," as their motto.

This year Mrs. Vinson served as our class adviser.

ACT II

There was a brand new school with beautiful furniture and equipment waiting to welcome us as juniors.

We selected Hugu Freeze to head our class; Basil Howard as vice-president; Patti Barlow, secretary; and Reid Fincher, treasurer. We chose Janice Brinkley as our social chairman and Martha Shelton and Charles Ray Smith, council members.

We proudly watched Katie Ruth Durham installed as secretary of the student body.

Pete Athanaelos was the only junior on the football team chosen All State.

As juniors, we attended our first Senior-Junior. "Dancing in the Dark" was a big success.

We sold magazines and were presented with a plaque by the Curtis Publishing Company for outstanding work. The proceeds of the magazine campaign went to finance our Junior-Senior.

Janice Brinkley with the help of her committees and our class adviser, Margie Harrell, planned a wonderful, never-to-be forgotten Junior-Senior. It was a semi-formal banquet at the Y.M.C.A. with a dance following in the social room of the school. We used as our theme, "Moonlight and Roses."

Then came the thrill of our first class play. We presented "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," directed by Miss Jean Satterthwaite.

Then, in April, after a wait that seemed forever, we received our coveted rings. How proudly we showed them off. This was also the year of the junior class' annual trip to Washington, D. C. Riding on the bus, staying in a hotel, the visiting of all the historic buildings and monuments will be long and well remembered.

Frankie Black was voted to head the student government for the coming year. Hugu Freeze was selected vice-president.

Joan Campbell and Sandra Gordon were chosen co-editors for the newspaper and annual. For the first time, all the students' pictures appeared in the ALBROKAN. Another first was the using of the name, ALBROKAN, for the yearbook.

Elected this year into the Honor Society were Miriam Castor, Patsy Hobbs, Donice Pharr and Carolyn Krepp.

Frankie Black was the only junior tapped into the Quill and Scroll. He was also elected assistant circulation manager of the CANNON REPORT.

Reid Fincher and Charles Ray Smith were elected into the Key Club.

Janice Brinkley was voted chief cheerleader. Other juniors elected to help her keep up morale were Herman Helms and Alton Taylor.

ACT III

When we became seniors we felt as if our day had arrived. We were caught up in a whirlwind of exciting activities as we elected officers, superlatives, had our pictures taken, chose mascots, flower, motto, poem, and the million other things we had to do.

PHYLLIS KING
Historian

We chose as our officers, Charles Ray Smith, president; Charles Marlow, vice-president; Joan Sloop, secretary; and Michael Koontz, treasurer. We selected Reid Fincher and Carolyn Krepp for our council members. We designated Norma Jean Daniels and Phil Settlemyer as our prophet and lawyer. Barbara Aldridge wrote our poem, "Onward."

We picked the pink camellia as our flower; "To do as we should and not as we do," as our motto. Linda Helms and Thomas Powell were selected as our mascots.

The wonderful honor of being chosen to play in the Shrine Bowl was bestowed upon Donald Argo, tackle for the Little Wonders. He was also placed on the All-Conference Team and "The Charlotte News," "Greensboro Daily News," and "Charlotte Observer" All-State Teams.

Basil Howard was picked by fans as the most popular football player in the Sylvania contest. Basil and his coach attended the William and Mary-North Carolina State game and the North Carolina-Notre Dame game.

Howard Hall was selected by the students to receive the Owen C. Hill football trophy.

The team selected Howard Hall to receive the Lug Leazer award.

Buddy Argo, Pete Athanaelos, Howard Hall, and Basil Howard were chosen All-Conference. Buddy Argo, Pete Athanaelos, and Howard Hall were chosen honorable mention for All State.

This year our football team continued their fine play and ended the season with a record of nine wins and one loss.

This year George Viola, Don Check, and Michael Koontz were taken into the membership of the Key Club.

A decision was made to rename the school paper. The student's voted and chose "Brown Highlights" to replace "The Cannon Report."

Patti Barlow was "Miss Hi Miss." This award was based on character, scholarship and beauty.

Gail Payne was "Miss Brown High." She competed for the title of "Miss Merry Christmas" and queen of the Carrousel in Charlotte.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Virginia Alexander, our class adviser, we ordered our caps, gowns, calling cards, and invitations.

Spring was drawing near, bringing graduation, as we had our Senior Class play, the tapings of the Honor Society and the Quill and Scroll.

The memories of our last Senior-Junior and Junior Senior will linger forever in our hearts.

Now was the time for the real dignity of the seniors to show. We had to practice for the Class Day exercises, Baccalaureate Sermon, and finally the great day in all our lives, Graduation.

What a real thrill it was, and how much more it meant for us to get and sign our annuals this year, for this was the last time. We didn't know when we would ever see all these, our cherished friends, again. Only now did we see that our school days were indeed, happy ones.

EPILOGUE

As the curtain comes down on the last night of our four year run, we will never forget the wonderful two years we spent at A. L. Brown High and our first two years at J. W. Cannon High. Never will we think of our school years but what we remember, with a sigh, the people we met and worked with.

The stage is dark again this time, empty, as we each go our own way. We walk out into an uncertain future with faith and confidence that was shaped in these, our beloved schools.

I blinked my eyes. The stage and my classmates were gone. The fog was lifting as I entered the park. The halos of light slowly faded away. This was goodbye.

CLASS PROPHECY

NORMA JEAN DANIELS
Prophetess

It was a cool, rainy afternoon and, being in a strange city, as well as a strange country, I was feeling pretty gloomy. My husband was away on a trip, and as I knew no one except a few of the other soldiers' wives, I was lonesome and I had nothing to do. I glanced through the afternoon newspaper, The Paris Dispatch. I happened to notice the picture of one of my high school friends, Miss Nancy Morris, a famous model from New York, who was going to model a new type evening dress created by Dorothy Bussell and Shirley Oakley. I phoned her at her hotel and we decided to have lunch together the next day. We chose a quaint little French restaurant on the outskirts of Paris. Much to my surprise I found that Dallas Brown was the owner and Don Cheek was head waiter. Also working there were Patsy Brackens, Mildred Belcher, and Betty Jean Fisher.

Since Nancy had only been in Paris a short while, she had not had a chance to visit any of the shops. We decided to spend the remainder of our afternoon shopping. Our first stop was in Rave's Hat Shoppe, owned and operated by the Rave twins, Norris and Doris. Designing these hats were Peggy Potts and Peggy Pouncey. In the same building with them is Harold Allen who is a hair stylist. Working as beauticians are Katie Jordan, Barbara Daniel, Floise Kettner, and Diane Cornelius.

As we were going into one of the larger department stores we ran into Gail Payne. She had just received a letter from one of her friends, Wayne Steele, saying that Margaret Sloop, the former Margaret Barnhardt, had just become the mother of triplets a few weeks earlier. Incidentally, the other two girls have answered Cupid's call and are happily married.

On the way back to the apartment we stopped by Janice Brinkley's tea room. We saw an old classmate, Erwin Wilson, reading tea leaves for the customers. Janice had just received a letter from Bette Rae Holshouser, a classmate of '54 who is presently working as Home Demonstration Agent. She quickly began to relate the contents of her letter telling us what many of our former classmates are now doing.

Harold Mann is principal of Brown High School and working on the faculty with him are Ben Donaldson, Mack Freeze, Ethel Gullledge, and Jackie Foster.

President of Cannon Mills is Robert Propst and other high officials of this corporation are Kenneth Price, Ronnie Jones, and Juanita Petrea. Incidentally, this is the first time that a woman has ever had the honor.

Working in Cannon Mills are Wayne Yates, Donald Starnes, Charles Benfield, Lucille Strube, Doris Mahry, and Kenneth Dial.

On The Daily Independent staff we find Kenneth Hollar, Joe Early, Quentin Morton, Betty Sue Overcash, and Shirley Edgison.

Grady Black is manager of the Towel City Theaters. Working for him at the various theaters are Eveline Fritz, Joyce Gray, Joyce Ann Loudermilk, and Jerry King.

Serving with the Air Force as jet pilots are Joyce Allen, La Rue Cobb, Sylvia Blackmon, and Jennie Beaver. Also serving in Uncle Sam's great army are Boyd Overcash, Charles Overcash, Gene Riddle, Bobby Lord, and Donald Lamb.

One of the greatest surgeons of our day is Alton Taylor. Serving in the medical field with him are Guy Williams, Bernard White, and Helen Overcash.

Some years ago when our class visited Washington, D. C., they found the city so fascinating that they have returned there to work with the F.B.I. We found Dougie Logan, Camilla Waller, Louise Chandler, and Janice Jarrett training to be special agents. Paul Starnes, Johnny Sprinkle, and Thomas Seabolt are training to become their assistants.

Also in this great city is Claudette Ward, who was among the class of '54. She is the first woman senator ever to come from North Carolina.

Superintendent of Cabarrus Hospital is Joyce Dowell. On the staff with her are Barbara Aldridge, Carol Winecoff, Norgia Thompson, and Dorothy Keller.

Harry Carter has recently taken over the Pilot Life Insurance Company. His secretaries are Beaulen Sechler, Jonny Finger, and Wayne Funderburk. Our top notch photographer is Gene Creswell.

Kay Keller and Barbara McCombs have taken over Lewis' Drug Store. Working for them as druggist is Wayne Helms and the soda jerks are Patsy Hobbs and Donice Pharr.

Charles Marlow has recently bought Lake Shore Park and is doing a very profitable business.

Just hearing about these people and their present occupations gave me a wonderful feeling.

We had not been sitting there very long when Dorothy Grimes came in. She had just gotten back from the Riviera and immediately began telling me what a wonderful place it was and what a grand time she had had there. Neither of us had been there and we were both more or less alone for the weekend, so we decided to go.

Hurriedly we packed our clothes and we were off for the Riviera. We journeyed there by car and saw many beautiful sights along the way. As we were checking in the hotel I saw a familiar face. It took me several minutes to place her, but it finally came to me. It was Helen Black. How could I ever forget her? She told me that she was a psychiatrist and that she was in France for a year to try to increase her knowledge of the human mind. In this field of work along with Helen are Earl Crowder and Tommy Fraley. Helen had come out to the Riviera especially for the engagement party for Joan Maness and Bobby Cartner; she invited us to join them, but we told her that we had already made plans to attend the Place de L'Opera to see the "Barber of Seville" with Charles Smith as Count Almaviva, Joan Sloop as Rosina, Dillon Stack as Bartolo, and Larry Spry as Figaro. Production manager was Jerry Spry who pulled strings to get Larry Spry the part of Figaro, Charles Ray Smith, Phil Settlemever, and Donald Mason keep the floor immaculate while Marvin Taylor and Raymon Vaughn do the sweeping. Having a genuine desire to see many of our old classmates that we knew would be at the party, we left the opera early. We went late to the party but had a wonderful time. Several hundred people were there and among them were Gene Brantley, Ambassador to France; Bruce Nussman, the great Olympic swimmer; Barbara Cook, the English Channel swimmer; David Price, a great composer; Carolyn Baker, who is known throughout the world for her famous Baker's coconut, and Betty Cauthen, Betty Cauble, Margaret Scarborough, and Betty Rose Howell, models.

The next morning we were up bright and early and out on the beach. The sun was beaming down on us and there was some music on the portable radio which we had brought along with us. A familiar voice penetrated my thoughts; I sat bolt upright. Surprisingly enough it was my old friend, Guy Sloop, broadcasting the latest news.

Gaye Goodman, who has made a career of swimming, has just been acclaimed the first person to swim the Atlantic. Miss Goodman says that she owes everything to her trainer, Richard Watkins. Gene Thompson was on hand to photograph her triumphant arrival in Ireland.

Howard Hall of the New York Giants was recently named the greatest hat boy in its history, and Patti Barlow has succeeded Dinah in "Ozark Ike." The new world's boxing champion is Jimmy Brewer. His manager is Hugh Freeze.

We had been lying out in the sun nearly the whole morning. Neither one of us had been very much exposed. Our skin was stinging and it was getting hotter by degrees. A couple lying beside us began talking about the circus which was about three miles back and of all the things they had there. It seems that they thought it was about the best they had ever seen. Overhearing this, we decided that would be the perfect place to spend the afternoon.

We went back to the hotel, changed our clothes and ate a sandwich, and we were now ready to spend the rest of the afternoon at the circus. Incidentally, this is supposed to be the largest in the world and is owned and operated by a group from the States. It was to be here for three months. We were out at the Fair Ground and the very first thing that attracted my attention was a huge sign which said, "Argo Brothers Circus." We thought this rather comical since we happened to graduate with two Argo brothers. After giggling for a few minutes over this we looked up, and there before our eyes was a big billboard with the pictures of the two faces on it, and it really was our old classmates, Don and Buddy Argo. I had never connected them with the Circus even though I had heard of it many times before.

As we started in we noticed a huge crowd over to the right, so we went over there, thinking that was as good a place as any to start. It was a midget show that had played on Broadway. In it were Ken Patterson as Little James Stewart, Lynn Harrington as Little Humphrey Bogart, Phyllis Hayes as Little Lana Turner, and Jennie Jacobs as Little Jane Russell. Next we saw the muscle man of the world, E. B. Morgan, Jr. The main show of the day was that of the flying aerialist. The "Flying Finnigans." I had once known as Jean Barlow and Jimmy Dishman. The bareback riders were the next thing we came upon and they were Barbara Keever, Nancy Dula, Margaret Dial, George Viola, Gloria Crisco, and Don and Nancy Farabee. Suddenly, ukulele music drifted through the air and out on the stage came Liliuokalani, and her five lovely Hawaiian dancers. I thought they looked familiar and closer inspection revealed that I had once known Liliuokalani as Iris Price. Her troop of dancers included some of my old classmates, Louise Strube, Lutecia Talbert, Shirley Walker, and Dorothea Wiles. The next show we went into consisted of four acts. This was to last two hours and we weren't going in but Maxie Beaver, the barker, was so persuasive that we went in anyway. Several of the jugglers were Fred Hay and Jerry Helms. Act two was a Trampoline act. The top performers here were Lloyd Moon, Bobby Reynolds, Helen Williams, and Mavis McSwain. Act three showed many different phases of tumbling. In this act were Milton Griggs, Max Gibbons, Larry Cobb, Miriam Castor, Rowena Chastain, and Joan Campbell. Then at last came Act Four and the tight rope walkers. I was amazed to find Phyllis King and Delmas Petrea as the fabulous tight rope team. They had built up a superb reputation with Parks Mullis as their press agent.

There were clowns wandering around, and I later found out that three of these were Elbert Cline, Reid Fincher, and Levander Adcock.

Time was passing quickly and we had planned to go out to a night club. We were a little pressed for time, but I couldn't resist the temptation to visit the animals. I think we must have watched them for at least an hour. I think I enjoyed seeing the lions the most. They had been trained by Jimmy Griffith and Bill Adams. We also saw Sandra Henly, Rachel Hunter, and Betty Sue Murph, but we did not get close enough to them to speak. I guess they were just enjoying Paris as we were. That was really an exhausting afternoon, and I was ready to rest for a few minutes before taking off again. On my way home, I bought The New York Times and found it full of news about my former classmates.

In New York, Carolyn Krepp has established a school for the purpose of teaching the Southern drawl. In the same school, teaching Latin and Greek, are JoAnn Pethel and Joan Winters. Kay Roberson is teaching wrestling and Margaret Hensley teaches a course in "How to Win His Heart." She wrote this book herself and following it up is Peggy Lapsly in a book which she calls "How to Keep Him After You Have Caught Him."

Glancing through the sports section, I found that Elvena Bolick is to be named the world's greatest woman athlete of 1970. Presently she is teaching physical education at one of our larger universities. Sonny Sappenfield is scheduled to play Ben Hogan in a golf tournament in a few weeks. Don Shinn will caddy for him.

Emily Dellinger has developed her musical talent to the extent that she has been proclaimed the world's most famous organ grinder.

This is National Toothpick Week according to Don Nesbitt and Herman Helms who are the owners of the largest toothpick factory in the world. It is located in Landis, N. C.

I looked over the comic strips, and I was amazed to find that they had been done by Sandra Caldwell, Shirley Donahue, and Emelie Clayton.

I fell asleep in the chair and when I awoke Nancy was practically ready to go. We were meeting Ethel Rogers and Donald Sechler, who were recently married, at one of the larger night clubs. While we were on our way I was informed that it was owned by Sonny Shelf and Georgann Alexander. Donald Sloop was the chief bottle washer.

Blondean Bennett and Doris Bolick were the hat check girls. Working as head waiter and waitress were Dean Middleton and Marlene Lunsford. Other waitresses were Patty Morris, Shirley Perkins, Carol Smith, and Helen Simmons. The food was delicious and they had the best chorus line I have ever seen. The singers, Charlotte Carrier and Max Barrett, had just finished a two year run at the Paladium in London. In the chorus line were Sandra Gordon, Martha Shelton, Nancy Lisk, Phyllis Lomax, Carlene Christy, and Carolene Shaver.

The orchestra was simply wonderful. It was made up of Basil Howard, Pete Athanaelos, Roger Lingeifelt, Gene La Nier, and Keith Helms. Of course, there were many more that I didn't know.

It was terribly late when we got in bed Saturday night, but we promised ourselves before going to sleep that we would get up in time for church the next morning. We were awfully tired but we made it. The minister of the church was Frankie Black. At the organ we found Phyllis LaFavers. Making up the choir were Pat Bowman, Gary Brotherton, Arnold Connor, Charles Covington, Barbara Creech, Coleen Ellsworth, Barbara Pinkston, and Peggy Ramsey. The Education Director was Delsie Lawing and several of the very prominent members were Don Ashby, Bill Bradford, Patsy Caudle, Ronnie McCombs, and Joyce McKinney.

Visiting in the church, also, were June Miller, Vivian Morris, Faye Goodman and Ann Funderburke. They had a cabin right out on the beach and invited us to join them there for lunch which, of course, we did. They were in France as tourists and they were beginning to love this country just as I was. We were having a wonderful time but we had to say goodbye after a few hours and get back to Paris.

We returned to the hotel, got our bags, and checked out. I dropped Nancy at her hotel and was soon going back into my lonesome apartment. It had been shut up for the past several days. I immediately began opening the windows and straightening it up a bit to make it look as if somebody lived there. I was expecting my husband home late that night.

I turned on the radio and sat down to listen to one of my favorite programs and fell asleep. It took me several minutes to realize that the buzzing in my ear was the doorbell. When I went to the door, a young man handed me a telegram. I went back to get some money to pay him but all the time I was thinking I had seen this face somewhere before. By the time I had gotten my money it had dawned on me that it was Glenn Litaker. He recognized me about the same time. Before we knew it we were talking about our high school days. I invited him in for a cup of coffee and we talked for a short while. When he left I happened to look over on the table. My telegram was still lying there unopened. It was from my husband and it said for me to pack our things and get everything ready. He was being sent to England and we would fly there on Wednesday. That was a big disappointment for me, for I had just gotten settled in Paris, learned how to get around the city, and met some friends which made it seem a little more like a place to call home.

On Tuesday I went to the airport to check the schedule and make reservations. Working in the office there were Sue Lazenby, Shirley Howard, and Frances Horne. The next day we boarded the plane and were sitting waiting for the takeoff when the two air line hostesses, who turned out to be Jean Rogers and Barbara Peeler, came by to check our safety belts. The pilots on this plane were Ray Richardson and Dewey Lowder. Several mechanics aboard were Larry Isenhour and Kevin Johnson. Michael Koontz, a great journalist, was also going to England.

On the trip to England I relaxed and watched the landscape go hurrying by and wondered when, if ever, I would see my classmates again. But always the wonderful memories of our four years together and the visits in Paris will remain warm in my heart.

BASEBALL HIGHLIGHTS

Behind the pitching of Howard Hall, Buddy Waggoner, and Freddy Whitaker the Brown High baseball team made their bid for the championship of the South Piedmont Conference.

Howard Hall and Frankie Black, seniors, were elected to guide the team as co-captains. Other seniors on the team were: Buddy Argo, Don Argo, Delmas Petrea, and Gene Thompson.

The Kannapolis team played twelve games during the regular conference season. Teams the Wonders played were Landis, Winecoff, China Grove, Mooresville, Concord, and Albemarle. The team also played the Davidson Freshmen in two non-conference games. The Freshmen won the first game 4-0 but the Wonders triumphed over the collegians 8-7 in a return game.

The team opened the conference action April 2 at Landis by tripping the Yellow Jackets 5-2. Winecoff came to Kannapolis April 9 and bowed to the Wonders 7-3. As this goes to press the team has just trampled the China Grove Red Devils 15-1.

The Kannapolis Club seemed well on its way to another crown as they hold undisputed first place in the standings.

SEASON HIGHLIGHTS

In the second year in this new school the football squad again has turned in a record that all Kannapolis is proud of. The team under the able leadership of Coaches Ed Edmiston and Dan Hamrick turned in a nine win, one loss record.

With only five lettermen back from last year's conference-winning squad, the Wonders' chances looked dim at the start of the season because of the lack of weight and experience in the line.

The first game was at Spencer on a wet, slippery field but the Wonders came out on top 26-6. The next game the Wonders traveled to Albemarle, state champions in '53, where they were overpowered 26-0. During the remaining eight games only one team was able to score as the Wonders ended the season in second place.

The team set two records this year as they scored the biggest win over their arch-rival, Concord, in school history and a victory over Children's Home which was the first in series history between the two rivals.

LETTERMEN

Members of the team who have received Monograms:
Ends: Basil Howard, Pete Athanaelos, Jimmy Griffith, Raymond Alexander.

Guards: Gene LaNier, Buddy Argo, Bill Kale.

Tackles: Don Argo, David Sweeney, Bill Belk, Neal Pope.

Centers: Keith Helms, Mickey Parks.

Backs: Howard Hall, Bobby Waller, Howard Little, Robert Beabe, Harry Beabe, Leroy Scercy, Jerry Miles, Bobby Moss, Howard Jones.

Don Argo and Howard Hall served as co-captains for the Wonders this year. Don Argo received his greatest award when he played in the Shrine Bowl. Don also was chosen on All-State prep teams, All-American prep team, and winner of the Blocking Trophy. Hall received the highly honored Lug Leazer award, Owen C. Hill Trophy, and mention on All-State teams.

BOYS'

First row: Larry Hamby, Robert Beabe, Delmas Petrea, Howard Hall, Charles Marlow, Bill Hubbard.

Second row: Bill Thompson, Charles Benfield, Pete Athanaelos, Basil Howard, Gene Thompson, Raymond Alexander, Harry Beabe, Frankie Black.

The Wonder basketball team is making winning conferences a standard as they took their third straight South Piedmont Conference Championship in '54.

The team playing under the leadership of Coach Dan Hamrick turned in a brilliant record of 14 wins against no defeats.

Delmas Petrea and Howard Hall were chosen to guide the Wonders as they continued to chalk up championships.

The changing of the conference members this year sent the Wonders against the Landis Yellow Jackets in a hot rivalry as both teams fought for leadership in the standings. Other members that the Wonders played in '54 were Albemarle, Concord, Monroe, Winecoff, China Grove, and Mooresville.

Future prospects in basketball look good as the Wonders have a number of skilled reserves who will be back next year.

GIRLS'

First row: Betty Poole, Shelby Ross, Clara Faggart, Jackie Wyke, Caroyl Winecoff, Sue Chapman, Frances Threadgill.

Second row: Annie Lee Styers, Bobbie Jo Ferguson, Wanda Hearne, La Verne Vinson, June Blanton, Lorene Benfield, Jackie Nesbitt, Barbara Staton, Becky Isenhour.

The Wonderettes made a brilliant comeback under the leadership of high-scoring forward, Jackie Nesbitt, to be among the leaders in the '54 conference race.

Coaching the Wonderettes in '54 were Ed Edmiston and Geraldine Turner while Lorene Benfield and Wanda Hearne served as co-captains.

The Wonderettes got off to a bad start because of lack of experience on the squad. They finally came through with a win when they out-scored Winecoff 43-41 in an overtime period.

The lassies turned in their best performance of the season February 9 when they tripped the Albemarle girls 53-51.

The Wonderettes' chances of a championship team next year will be better since the team will consist of the entire squad with the exception of one senior.

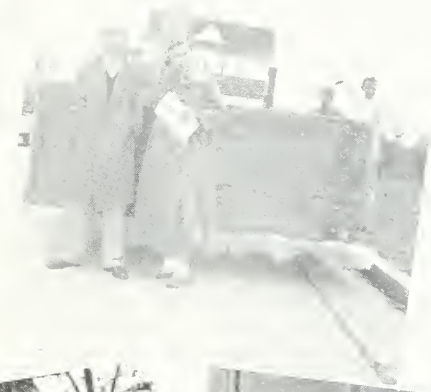

1954 GRADUATES??

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

PHIL SETTLEMYER, Lawyer

We, the Senior Class of A. L. Brown High School, in the year of 1954 A. D., being of good faith, strong constitutions, and tranquil memories do ordain this as our last will and testament.

ARTICLE I

We leave the world of laughter and happiness and go into the world of reality to make a place for ourselves in the shifting sands of time.

ARTICLE II

We bequeath to our beloved teachers our admiration, our respect, and our humble gratitude for all that they have done.

ARTICLE III

To our beloved principal, Mr. Fred O. Drummond, we leave our deep appreciation for unceasing efforts to help us and to better our school.

ARTICLE IV

To the woman behind the scenes, Mrs. Helen Bostian, school secretary, who has helped us through school and recommended us to college, we will our heartfelt thanks.

ARTICLE V

To the rising seniors we leave the challenge to make the school a little bit better and to work and learn, striving ever upward. To the rising juniors and sophomores we leave the will to work in order to make tomorrow's senior classes better senior classes.

ARTICLE VI

I, Alex Levander Adcock II, of little mind and tall body, do hereby will and bequeath my place in the parking lot to Arthur Herman.

I, Barbara Aldridge, do will and bequeath to my sister Patricia the ability to be a "GREEN SENIOR" at Brown High. My excess typing errors go to Sylvia McCommons provided she doesn't mind failing grades.

I, Georgann Alexander, being of little body and mind, do hereby will and bequeath all my wonderful times to Pat Doby. To "Little Gip," Class of '69, I leave my ability to graduate in 4 years.

I, Harold Allen, being of sound mind and body, do hereby will and bequeath all my good times to Carolyn Hatley, a rising senior. To the teachers and all the "cats" I just leave.

I, Joyce Allen, do hereby will and bequeath my seat in Miss Gray's English class to Peggy Kincaid. To Phyllis Freeman, I will all my good times and my ability to keep my "big mouth" shut in Mrs. Hamrick's study hall.

I, Buddy Argo, of sound mind and weak body, do hereby will and bequeath my position on the football team to Wayne Anderson and my good times on the swimming team to David Porter.

I, Don Argo, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to graduate in four years to Buck Little. (He will need it.) To Bobby Waller, I will my ability to have a clean towel every day at football practice.

I, Donald Ashby, do hereby will and bequeath my place in Mrs. Alexander's solid geometry class to "Mose" Stirewalt. I hope he gets more of the problems than I did.

I, Pete Athanaelos, would like to will to my brother, Paul, all my good times in high school; that is if he can get out of grammar school.

I, Margaret Barnhardt, do will and bequeath to my sister, Louise, the car, hoping that she gets to school on time more than I have.

I, Carolyn Baker, do hereby will and bequeath all my good times on the band trips to my brother Keith, a rising sophomore. To my cousin, Deanna Allen, I leave my love for high school. I leave my art brush to Kenny Miller and to all rising seniors, my "senior privileges."

I, Jean Barlow, will my ability to graduate in four years to my brother, Leonard, and all my good times to my sister, Joyce, who will graduate in 1966.

I, Patty Barlow, do hereby will and bequeath all my good times during my four years in high school to my brother Ronnie, class of '60. And to my cousin, Toni, I leave my trip to Washington hoping she has as much fun as I had.

I, Jennie Lynn Beaver, do hereby will to Sandra Jones my good times at Brown High and a seat in my "Cousin's" physics class. To Sarah Ann Price, I will my good times in publicity.

I, Max Beaver, leave to all hipsters, hustlers, and fly cats my love for the "Blues." My inspired spirit, ability in, and interpretation of music, I leave to Bill Henderson, hoping he can live on a musician's salary.

I, Mildred Belcher, being of sound mind and body, do hereby will and bequeath to anyone lucky enough to get Miss Perryman for English that right. To Doris Weddington and Bobby Moore, the ability to graduate.

I, Charles Benfield, do hereby will and bequeath my position on the basketball team to Bobby Medlin. All of my good times as a senior, I leave to my sister, Lorene Benfield, a rising senior. To the "cats" I just leave.

I, Blondecann Bennett, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to pass all my subjects to my sisters, Eva Mae and Naomi, who will graduate in '57 and '58.

I, Grady Black, hereby will my senior English seat to Clinton Morrow for his senior year in Miss Gray's English class.

I, Helen Black, do hereby will and bequeath to my cousins, Ann and Cecil McLean, all my good times. My place as Brown Highlights Alumni Editor I leave to anyone who thinks he can find out where everyone is.

I, Frankie Black, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to pass geometry to any underclassman that will need it as much as I. To Mrs. Riddle and Mrs. Gilmore I leave my beloved "dog".

I, Larry Cobb, being of sound mind and body do will my laziness to my lazy cousin, George Cobb.

I, Barbara Cook, being of sound mind and body, do hereby will my seat in psychology to Janice Solomon, in hopes that she will enjoy Marilyn Monroe, as much as Jimmy Dishman and I.

I, Diane Cornelius, being of sound mind, do hereby will and bequeath my good times in high school to Frances McCommons, a rising freshman, and to James White I will just leave thinking of him.

I, Barbara Creech, do hereby will and bequeath my seat in English IV to Jimmy Smith, a rising sophomore. To Miss Bounds, Mrs. Edmiston, and Mrs. Whitehead, I leave best wishes.

I, Gene Creswell, being of a sound mind and body, will and bequeath my ability to graduate in four years to my cousin, Dewey Griffin, a rising junior, and all my good times to my sister, a rising freshman.

I, Gloria Crisco, being of sound mind (?) and body, do hereby will and bequeath to Louise Barnhardt and Jonnie Canup all the good times I had my senior year, and to Kenny Miller I leave my ability to graduate in four years, knowing that he will need it.

I, Earl Crowder, being of sound body and weak mind, do will and bequeath my ability to graduate in four years to my girl friend, Peggy Hammitt, and my ability to pass English under Miss Perryman to my cousin, Ralph Diggs.

I, Barbara Daniel, being of sound mind and body, do hereby will and bequeath to Kenneth Pless my monitor post, hoping that he can fight off the stampede better than I. My place in duplicating I leave to anyone who has steady nerves.

I, Norma Jean Daniels, do hereby will and bequeath to Louise Barnhardt all the things I never had hoping she can make better use of them than I did.

I, Emily Dellinger, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to graduate to my brother Clyde Jr., a rising sophomore; and to Maggie Adams, a rising senior, I leave all my good times.

I, Kenneth Dial, do hereby will my best wishes to all future students.

I, Margaret Dial, being of sound mind and sound body, do hereby will and bequeath my good times to Marilyn Moore and my place at the end of the cafeteria line to Ralph Harper.

I, Jimmy Dishman, being of sound mind, do will my ability to be engaged to a girl like Jennie Kerr, to the rising seniors.

I will my good times and friends like Hugh Freeze, Don Cheek, and Reid Fincher to my brother, Tommy.

I, Shirley Donahue, do hereby will and bequeath all my good times in Cannon and Brown High to Mildred Litaker.

I, Ben Donaldson, being of sound mind and no body, do hereby will and bequeath my seat in Miss Gray's English class to my sister, and my good times in band to Larry Blackwelder. My power to graduate in four years I leave to my younger brother.

I, Joyce Ann Dowell, being of sound mind (?) and body, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get by with chewing gum in class to Maxine Inman, who loves to chew, and my ability to have all good teachers to every person entering A. L. Brown High School.

I, Nancy Savage Dula, do hereby will and bequeath my good times at B.H.S. and my ability to go steady to Sylvia Shoaf and Wanda Hearne.

I, Joe Early, being of weak mind and a weaker body do hereby will and bequeath my ability to finish high school in four years to my brother Eugene, a rising sophomore.

I, Shirley Edgison, being of sound body and no mind, do hereby will and bequeath my good times at B.H.S. to my brother, Bobby; and to Joann Burgess. I leave two years of that "crazy mixed-up" Latin.

I, Colleen Ellsworth, do hereby will and bequeath to Carol Sue Price my front seat in Miss Gray's English Class and to my sister, Shelby Jean Ellsworth, all my good times hoping she will graduate in four years.

I, Don Farabee, being of sound mind and body do hereby will and bequeath to Leroy Scercy and Val Edwards my good times at Brown High and hope they have as much fun.

I, Nancy "Junie" Farabee, do hereby will and bequeath the ability to any twins, the fun of having confused teachers all the days of their school years.

I, Reid Fincher, being of sound mind (?) and body, do hereby will and bequeath my good times in band to David Bullock, hoping he won't come back from Monroe as I did, and my ability to pass geometry, I leave to my cousin, Reba Fincher.

I, Johnny Finger, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to laugh at Mr. Van Poole's jokes to anyone who takes physics. I leave my good times as a senior to Sarah Ann Price.

I, Betty Jean Fisher, do hereby will and bequeath all my good times and my ability to graduate to my sister, Dottie (class of '59). To Nancy Miles, I leave my seat in Miss Gray's English Class.

I, Jackie Foster, do hereby will and bequeath to Walter Foster my position in the senior class and all the good times I had.

I, Tommy Fraley, being of sound mind and body, do hereby will and bequeath my good times in high school to my underclassmen friends, and my band uniform to any one lucky enough to get it.

I, Mack Freeze, being of doubtful mind and skinny body, do hereby will and bequeath all my years of music to Danny McRain, who will be the hottest jazz man ever to hit town.

I, Hugh Freeze, being of sound mind and body, do hereby will and bequeath to my little sister, Malitta Lynn of the class of "69," all my good times.

I, Evelene Fritz, do hereby will and bequeath to Carol Sue Price my seat in Miss Gray's sixth period English class, and to my cousin, Jimmy Fritz, all my good times at A. L. Brown.

I, Anne Funderburk, do hereby will and bequeath my good times in band to Jean Eford and Jimmy Dellinger. To Carol Holland, I leave my memories, hoping she has as many as I do.

I, Wayne Funderburk, being of sound mind and body do hereby will and bequeath my seat in English IV to anybody that wants it.

I, Max Gibbons, do hereby will and bequeath to my brother, Roy, my good times at Brown High and to my little brother, Brownie, my ability to be a genius in Latin.

I, Faye Goodman, being a lover of Cadillacs, do hereby will to Don Falls all the good times he can have while in school; to my brother, anything that will be to his advantage; namely, a high school education.

I, Gayle Goodman, do hereby will and bequeath all my good times and my place in band to my brother Wayne, class of '60. My ability to succeed I leave to Charles Holman.

I, Sandra Gordon, being of sound mind and slightly lacking body, do hereby will and bequeath to my brother Michael, a rising junior, my ability to always fall for a silly joke.

I, Nora Joyce Gray, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to graduate to my brother, Larry (class of '61). To Mrs. Rinehardt, my favorite teacher, I leave the fact that I will always remember her.

I, Jimmy Griffith, being of sound mind (?) and body, do hereby will and bequeath my position on the football team to Raymond Alexander, and to my sister, Sybil, my good times on the Washington trip.

I, Milton Griggs, being of sound mind and body do hereby will and bequeath my ability to pass four years of math (two with Mrs. Alexander) to my sister, Nancy, in Junior High.

I, Dorothy Grimes, do hereby will and bequeath all my good times at Brown High to my sister, Merl Cooper.

I, Ethel Gulledge, do hereby will and bequeath all my good times at Brown High to my niece and nephew, who will graduate with the Class of 1960.

I, Lynn Harrington, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to drive a new car every month to Franklin Bary.

I, Fred Hay, do hereby will and bequeath to Gene Beaver, my physics teacher, Mr. Van Poole. Take it easy on him, boy; he is a powerhouse. Ask him and he will tell you. If you are lucky you will get away with your skin.

I, Phyllis Hayes, being of sound mind, leave my good times at the football games to my good sister, Betty, and "Co" Medlin, rising sophomores. To Billie Jean Cool (Class of '59) I leave my love for dancing.

I, Herman Helms, being of sound mind and body, do hereby will and bequeath my good times to my sister, Peggy Helms, and my place on the cheerleading squad to Don Thompson.

I, Jerry Helms, being of sound body and sound mind, (I hope) do will my good times and my seat in English to Barbara Helms, my sister, who will graduate in 1956.

I, Sandra Henley, do hereby will and bequeath to David Settemyer my good times and a can of flea powder for "Homer," and to Arthur Herman I leave lots of luck and a Cadillac motor, knowing he needs both for "Magnolia."

I, Patsy Hobbs, do will and bequeath my wonderful high school days and activities to Robbie Hobbs, class of '59. To Raymond Alexander, I leave the Business Staff, hoping the ALBROKAN will survive.

I, Kenneth Hollar, being of sound mind and body, do hereby will and bequeath my nickname, "Jesse James," to my poor sucker who wants it, and to my sister, Linda, I will my ability to draw.

I, Betty Rae Holshouser, not being of a very sound mind, leave my seat in Mixed Chorus to Nancy Myers, my ability to go steady my senior year to Pat Doby, and all my good times to Denny Swing, Class of '59.

I, Frances Horne, being of sound mind, do will all my good times in high school to Mildred Litaker, hoping she will take more advantage of them than I did.

I, Basil Howard, do hereby will and bequeath my meanness to all the football team hoping they can talk their way out of the trouble it gets them into.
